

April 29, 22 Learning Collaborative Reflection: Linkages Between Community & Clinical Care (At Present)

Here's what I'm excited about...

Increased collaboration

Going back to in-person connection

Networking over food!! Cookies!!

ACH developments/restructure person centered care in the mental health setting

We're beginning to recognize external conditions are important part of behavior dulce

Excited about connecting with this new team

Embedded positions

Health Equity Approach

Case Mangementn/Care Coordination Model to connect patients to resources

Facility offerings of multiple care services increase in access and utilization through telehealth for marginalized community

Excited that more community agencies are screening for MH & SA risks

Collaboration between community partners, including clinic care

Excited about fentanyl test strips people are showing up, despite everything

Here's what I'm longing for...

NO unintentional overdoses

Breaking down barriers reduce stigma

Homelessness, food insecurity; basic needs being met

Community agreement on what handout resources will be given to patients resources of people to help do the work more action of making the change continued efforts to think about wrap around care

Technological access for patients / cell phones, computer, internet community education with local partners transitional care - between OP and residential Treatment on demand for MDSA disorders, detox and pschy care funding and top down accountability

Advocate to legislation (housing, basic needs) more physician advocates for Public Health

Recognition that we need to be harder on systems and kinder on people

To work in a more systematic way / more connection in community / Longing for more connection more (easily accessible) connection between primary care and public health initiatives increased LOCAL clinical collaboration in prevention more quantitative data collection for HSA's work towards prevention

More embedded positions

More colocated services/opportunities
